

Reference nr. 2653 : Kiwi Coast

Reporter/Writer

Volunteer remotely. Growing the success of the conservation work happening in Piroa Brynderwyns depends on getting our stories to the local community and funders using a number of different channels. If you enjoy writing and getting results and want to put your skills to good use to help this community project.

The vision of Kiwi Coast is one of thriving kiwi, safely roaming throughout Northland, nurtured and cared for by Northlanders. We are creating New Zealand's first modern day kiwi corridor. Last year we removed nearly 1/2 a million pest animals and plants -so help us to make a difference.

The Kiwi Coast is a collaborative initiative that links over 160 community-led conservation projects, iwi and hapu, schools, forestry companies, government agencies and organisations in the shared vision of restoring the health of our native forests, helping native wildlife thrive and increasing Northland kiwi numbers.

Specific requirements

Some experience in writing and publishing stories, preparing newsletters and using mailware for group lists.
Self reliant with own work station.

When: Any time

Duration: Long-term

Area: Bream Bay

Activity: Marketing, media and internet

1 volunteer needed

- Virtual
- Reimburse expenses
- Reference provided after some time